

Cadette Journey Award Requirements

Mentoring Awards: Leader in Action (LiA)

When you guide people or teach them something you know, you are acting as a mentor. As a Cadette, you have more opportunities to help younger Girl Scouts by sharing your skills, passions, and experience.

The Leader in Action badge is the last step to complete in each of the new journeys:

- Engineering Journey
- Computer Science Journey
- Outdoor Journey

You can earn a Leader in Action award by assisting a Brownie troop on any of their new journey awards. There are 3 new journeys to choose from: Engineering, Computer Science, and Outdoors. To earn the new LiA you will share your organizational skills, use one of your special talents such as doing a STEM project, teach the Brownies something important from their Journey like how to safely go hiking, and reflect on your experience.
